day evening in the post hall at the Buckingham Memorial, was marked by a stereopticon talk given by the hon-orary state regent, Mrs. Sara T. Kin-ney, of Hartford, upon a trip she made last summer in Europe. It was given with Mrs. Kinney's always bright and cheery way of looking at the new things which she commented upon and provided an especially supertaining in a party of seven last summer. These were all touched upon, and were then followed by a number of views in St. Petersburg and Moscow. Mrs. Kinney's lively recital of experiences in connection with these furnished many a laugh. From Russia she traveled to London, Paris, Lucerne and to Venice before turning from there home.

On motion of Mrs. Thomas Potter a rising vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Kinney. The meeting closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, in which the audience united in the chorus, while Mise Perkins sang the verses.

"At first I thought bicycle riding caused it and I gave it up, but my condition remained unchanged. I did not want to acknowledge coffee caused the trouble for I was very fond of it. At that time a friend came to live with us, and I noticed that after he had been with us a week he would not drink his coffee any more. I asked him the reason. He replied, I have not had a headache since I left off drinking coffee, some months ago, till last week, when I began again, here at your table. I don't see how anyone can like coffee, anyway, after drinking Postum!

"I said nothing, but at once ordered a package of Postum. That was five months ago, and we have drank no coffee since, except on two occasions when we had company, and the result each time was that my husband could not sleep, but lay awake and tossed and talked half the night. We were convinced that coffee caused his suffering, so he returned to Postum, convinced that coffee was an enemy, instead of a friend, and he is troubled no more by insommia.

"I, myself, have gained a pounds in weight, and my herves have cessed to quiver. It seems so easy now to quit coffee that caused our aches and alls and take up Postum."

COMMON PLEAS COURTS NOT TO BE ABOLISHED

State Bar Association Decides They Do a Good Service.

The State Bar association of Connecticut held its annual meeting in New Haven Monday, President George D. Watrous presided, and James E. Wheeler acted as secretary. The attendance was fairly large.

The association voted not to abolish the common pleas courts and against the proposition to prevent state's atterneys from practicing in civil courts. The committee on judicial administration had to consider the following questions:

ing questions:

1. Whether the court of common pleas should be abolished and the number of judges of the superior court

e given uniform and greater jurisdic-ion, and also so they may have juris-liction in cases of naturalization, and whether town or district courts should be established with uniform jurisdic-ion to try all cases not exceeding the or a rule of court providing that upon the final decision of a motion for a disciosure, the party aggrieved by such ruling may be given an immediate right to appeal from that decision to the supreme court of errors prior to the final judgment in the

The committee reported that the common pleas courts do a good service and ought not to be abolished. The recommendation was adopted.

In regard to state's attorneys they "We do not believe that a state's attorney should be prohibited from trying divil causes to the jury. If it is true that an attorney for the state so far abuses his prerogative as to exercise an unfair influence on jurymen, the matter should be called to the attention of the judges, and the remedy, if such an evil exists, lies with them."

They also reported that the contention that more judges for the superior court are needed is not well taken. This was adjusted, as was the report on the establishment of town or district courts. They say:

"The question of the establishment of town or district courts is, in our opinion, a matter of local convenience, and therefore to be decided by the community affected. We do not deem it the part of the bar of the state to make any general recommendation such as the one called for."

As to city courts the committee As to city courts the committee

"The jurisdiction of city courts is, in our opinion, too large now in many cases. If any change is made in the jurisdiction of these courts it should be by reducing it to at least that of the court of common pleas in the county in which the particular city is located. Furthermore, we do not believe that any useful purpose will be served by giving to these courts jurisdiction to naturalize allens. The question of naturalization is becoming today far more important than it ever was, and the granting of naturalization papers requires in many cases the tion papers requires in many cases the exercise of the soundest judicial judg-ment which should be uninfluenced by any political or partisan considera-

On the motion of Judge Mathewson the city court matter was referred back to the committee.

The recommendation of the committee in regard to the fourth proposition was adopted.

A programme, The Transformed Endeavorer, consisting of responsive readings, hymns and short addresses, was given. A Transformed Person by Miss Jessie Hyde told of Robert Moffitt and his work in Africa. George F. Hyde likened the endeavorer to a watch; the mainspring of the Christian should be love to Christ, Miss Natalie F, Allen compared the model endeavorer to a crystal—both should be pure and should shine. feet model, that the endeavorer is pledged to follow where He leads.

A letter was read from Rev. G. H. Ewing, who was unable to be present because of illness. He wrote: The past of the society is an earnest of future faithfulness and service. The motto For Christ and the Church should be adhered to. He gave a sketch of the early society, its pledge, its membership of nearly one hundred, and its enthusiasm.

The address of the evening was made by Rev. C. A. Northrop, He said: We need to be reminded of the past to realize the present. Our aim is not production of perfect characters, but to bring back the same spirit of revent love for Jesus Christ which His disciples had. A society sets you at work and tells you what to do. If you will come down to the United Workers' rooms, I will give you all work to do will come down to the United Workers' rooms, I will give you all work to do that you will be interested in. What sort of a spirit has a man towards others? The Christ spirit makes us hel pand serve one another. We find God in everything and if we want to serve Him, right royal chances are all about us. There is a spirit and temper about this society that I never have known elsewhere. It comes down from the earnest spirit and temper about this society that I never have known elsewhere. It comes down from the earnest spirit and consecrated lives of those who founded this society.
